Bob Varkis Overhauls Boston Ideas, and Thinks They're not Healthy.

I'm blest if Boston aint so chock full of ideas that she'd bust if some one didn't go a peddlin of em off fur her. She's been into the fixin trade sinct she was a infant, and by thunder she's put a patch onto most everything that was wuth patchin, likewise noomerus which wasn't. She's got less sense and more sass nor is healthy for a femail town, and she haint got more'n too much grit into her when mussel's up, exceptin there's some wool an ivory to fit fur. Sam Hill! don't she go it then, skratchin and pullin har and callin bad names a scrongin of eyes and tellin foax thar nasty dirty good-for-nothin critters and ravin round like a eksasperated rinoserus or some other animal which aint wuth ritin eksept fur symilee. I'm goll darned if it aint a pity some chap did'nt take hold of that infernal cantankerus femail cuss and, hold a inkwest onto her atore she got her ideas greased. They run so slick now taint no use tryin ty brake up; but its a pity some chap did'nt choak her when she was a infant. Blest if it aint!

Boston has growed up so big, and her family's been gettin so big, there aint room for them all at home, so she's been a sendin some of em to Congress and some of em to jail, and the ones which aint in Congress or jail goes round cheaten foax out of their intellock, and a abusin of foax which has more intelleck 'n they can cheat. Them offspring which graduated in the intellecktoral swindlin line, peddles the ideas, and when they cant get em all off cheap they packs a batch of em off to the fellers in Congress, and darn em! the whole stock gets worked off afore foax smells swindle. Windy Phillips totes roun the pedlin wagon, and I'm blessed if he don't blow onto a old horn like as if he was sellin pogies; and Sumner, he works off the old stock when they aint too fresh to smell sweet. Windy aint particular about price. He jest gets into a crowd and blows onto his horn, and then he says: "Here you are now, I'm ready fur a trade. Here's some span new ideas made in Boston, and you can have em cheap. You need'nt mind payun fur em if you don't want to, but take em anyway." The chap which runs the Congress branch of the blarsted concern gets up and pulls out a bushil of stale notions and tells the fellers in his shop that thar all fresh and good fur numeros diseases of the colored sex, and the funograph chap up stairs advertises em. That's bout how the machine runs, and when the stock's all gone Boston gets up another lot and sends em off to the wholesale and swindle market.

Boston's fust idea are that thar aint no country wuth speakin of eksceptin Massachusetts.—She's bean a workin off this idea sinct she was a youthful femail, and I'am blest if the stock aint a 'cumulatin onto her. When one of her peddler chaps gets talkin he don't say nothin eksceptin two words which is Boston and Massachusetts. Thar aint no larnin no whar eksceptin in Boston, and thar aint no codfish nowhar eksceptin in Massachusetts. Massachusetts thinks she have more vartuous femail wives and darters and huzzins than Georgy have mail foax, and may I be darned to infernal smash if she aint a sendin of em off to the Pacific. Well, I reckon thar won't be much pacific when they get thar, for them krose-grained, spinnin-ginny cantankerus femail cusses won't let no pacific to stay whar they squat. They's got tungs, and geerusalem, when a Massachusetts tung gets a waggin thar aint no stoppin of it. And they gets thar noses into most everything.—They's wuss'n a Insanitary Commission or a Reconstruction Committee. Blest if they aint, Massachusetts have got more intelleck nor Virginny, and can fit more nor South Caroliny, eksceptin with muskets which aint healthy fur New England, but fust rate fur furseners and colored foax. I'll bet a apple she aint no fool; but goll darn her miserabil, sneakin, cataran kus picter! she's the biggest swindler and the confoundedest, blastedest bellcrer which aint been chucked into a Stait Prison or a Loonatik Asylum. Blame me fur a ingin if I wouldn't feel better'n a married idjut jest a lookin on at South Caroliny a wollopin of her, and if doctors was round I'd keep em off sure's aint related to the Butler family. I'd give more'n ten cents and a cheer to play coroner on the habeas corpses of that ere stait, and I'm blest if I wouldn't go into the coffin bizness jest fur the luxury of bein at the funeral.

Then Boston have got another idea which it are that a Mississippi colored foax is considerable better'n a Georgy Senator. She aint a goin to say that a Mississippi colored foax is better'n a Massachusetts white foax, tho I'd swar before a notorious public that he are. She goes in heavy fur makin colored foax whiter'n natur made em, and I'm blest if the census aint a provin of it—provin that colored foax is gettin whiter'n natur made 'em, and Massachusetts have been deep into it. Boston says thar aint no loyalty nowhar South eksceptin whats black, and blast her to whar she's goin fast! if she aint a goin round with charcoal and puttin mournin into every Caucassian which don't shout glory hallelujarem. When a Southern chap comes to Washington and says he wants that seat which Uncle Sam has been a keepin fur him, Boston hollers out, "You aint reconstructed; you shan't get it. I aint goin to trust you, fur you aint black. You've been a fittin agin our side, and we aint sure you've done fittin yet. There aint no place for foax which has been a fittin agin our side, and we aint goin to let no sich foax come lookin round our shanty for furniture and spoons which aint paid fur. Send along your foax which is loyal, and didn't have no silver spoons, and they can come in; but you shan't." That's 'bout how Boston talks when white foax nox at the Congress door. She is skeered of 'em, blest if she aint! and it mostly comes of the way she's been a investin cheap in Noo Orleans and Caroliny hardware. She's afeared of Southern foax which has been edicated and was born white; so she goes in fur colored foax which haint got nothin and don't know nothin; and like a infernal old hypocrit, which she are, she keeps hollern out, "We shan't trust white foax; they aint our friends; they've been fittin of us. Colored foax hasn't been a fittin of us, and we did't steal nothin or 'em. Send 'em along, but we shan't trust you." Goll infernally darn her, she's a a wusser noosance 'n cholora or Mexico; and I aint sure she aint wusser'n Parson Brownlow.

Boston won't swaller nothin that haint been through her millr—and, by Jiminy, haint she got more'n enough of 'em! She don't believ in nothin that haint been crammed into Bankro ft's history, or some blarsted Noo England spellin book; and a man which haint been growed on Massachusetts pap aint wuth shux. She so say. Andy Johnson haint been brot up on no sich fodder. He's a tar heel, by thunder, tho' his edycation was cultivated whar Brownlow's diggin a grave fur his son's father; and he aint a lovin of Massachusetts more 'n white foax love skunx. And Boston aint a lovin of him nuther. She's been a sendin her head peddler round with some ideas 'bout Andy, and one of em which it are heavy gets shot off like this readin: General Lee was a fittin fur the South, and General Grant was a fittin fur the North, and General Lee be'got wollopped. Congress are now fittin fur the North, and Andy Johnson are fittin fur the South, and if foax aint keerful Congress'll get wollopped. I'm blest if that ain't cooler'n a ice box, and falsetter 'n a paid editorial 'bout the opera. I know a darned sight better 'n to believ any sich infernal Boston nonsese 'bout Andy fittin fur the South, Andy ain't agoin to bitch into that team eksceptin jest to haul it onto the road and when it gets thar he'll jest draw out and let it go along and do its own haulin. But Boston keeps a hammerin at the spokes, trying to smash 'em so's the thing can't run, and Andy says, "Now, look here, that team's got to start agin, and if you don't stop hammerin, I'm blest if something won't bust, and it'll drop somewhar in Noo England." Then Boston gets mad, and goes round hollerin; "Andy Johnson's fittin fur the South, which are treeson."—My notions 'bout Andy ain't better 'n some other foax's, but it's restin onto me that he likes justice a darned sight better 'n he likes any Stait twixt here and China, Fed. or Confed., and he ain't goin to fit fur the South, eksept when he sees some Massachusetts lummux squaring hisself at her; Andy's fittin fur the United States, Noo England or no Noo England, and if any Boston chap gets in the way that chap's got to get out, or Andy'll hurt him; and I'm blest if I wouldn't like to help Andy, speshilly in the hurtin.

Boston ideas is onhealthy fur foax which is growin, and similarly likewise fur foax which ain't. They's wuss 'n Congress prayers fur a intelligent intelleck, and I'm blest if I wouldn't let a military commission sit onto me sooner 'n swaller one of 'em. Goll darn 'em to everlastin thunder, there's more pisen into 'em than'd set up a pill doctor or a fisikkill institoot.

E. F. Coe's Super-Phosphate of Lime,

OR

BONE MANURE.

WARRANTED GENUINE.

BEING MADE OF THE BEST MATERIAL AND in the most approved manner, it is recommended to the public as superior to any other in the market. All who have used it speak of it in the highest terms of praise and those engaged in its manufacture will continue their best endeavors to advance the high reputation which it has acquired.

We guarantee the Phosphate to be well manufactured, and recommend it in preference to any other artificial manure in the market. We consider it nearly equal to the best Peruvian Guano, although furnished at half the price.

Messrs B. H. Allen & Co., the well known manufacturers of agricultural implements, say of it:

"We take pleasure in stating that we have sold E. F. Coe's Super Phosphate of Lime for four years—It has given universal satisfaction to our customers. We most cheerfully endorse it as an article worthy of the confidence of the public, and the purchaser may rely upon securing an article honestly and carefully manufactured.

"We would state that, after careful examination, we believe this Phosphate has been improved each year since its introduction in this market, and that it will continue to maintain its present high standing.

"Very respectfully,

"R. H. ALLEN & CO.,

"No. 191 Water street, New York."

R. FRANK COE, Esq.,

Annexed please find result of my analysis of sample of your Super Phosphate of Lime left with me.

This being such a superior article in every respect, I cannot refrain from congratulating you upon such manufacture, which undoubtedly will meet with great success.

Wishing you every success, I am,

Respectfully yours,

G. A. LEIBIG.

PROSPECTUS

OF THE

COSMOPOLITE.

ON THE FIRST OF JANUARY WE WILL commence the publication, in the City of Baltimore, of a monthly

Literary Magazine.

There is no publication of this character now issued South of New York City, and the closing of the war has left a large portion of the people of the country with no literary representative.

The COSMOPOLITE will be devoted to

Literature, Art, Reviews, Scientific Papers and General Reading, and we shall number among its contributors some of the first literary men of the South, with others from the North and from London and Paris.

All matter not original will be carefully selected from the newest and best of the English, French and German publications; and its Editors will spare no effort or expense to make it rank with the very FIRST magazines of the country.

As its name imports, we have established the COSMOPOLITE upon no sectional basis. We hope to make it the organ of general literature alone; and will be uninfluenced by any party or clique whatever.

It will be mailed to subscribers in any part of the country upon receipt of the following

Subscription:

Single Copies, for one year,	$4 00
Five Copies for one year,	18 00
Ten copies for one year,	33 00

☞ The COSMOPOLITE will be generally distributed among the Merchants and Planters of the South, and we will add, for their information, a few other remarks at moderate rates.

☞ Liberal deductions will be made to Booksellers and newsdealers.

☞ Newspapers publishing this prospectus and sending a marked copy to the undersigned, will receive a copy of the magazine. Address

THE DAILY SENTINEL

WM. E. PELL, SEATON GALES, } Editors.

Saturday, March 3, 1866.

OUR TERMS.

THE SENTINEL is issued every morning (Sunday excepted) at the following rates:

For Daily, per year,	$10 00
" six months,	5 00
" one month	1 00
" two months	2 00

Weekly per year,	3 00

Our terms are invariably in advance. The Weekly and Semi-weekly will be issued about the first of January. Money may be sent us by the Rail Road conductors or the Express Companies.

"Our Neighbor."

The Standard bestows nearly two columns of bitter remark, upon our article designed to expostulate with it concerning its spirit, and objecting to its attack upon Dr. Deems and the Watchman.

Our first position was, that enough blood had been shed. This is met by an ill-tempered review of the past, in which there are sundry incorrect statements, and enough bile to satisfy any one. Our object was not to stir up strife or to call up the past. It will do no good. Not that we dread a review of the past. If the time should ever arrive when the real facts and principles of the past, must be discussed, we shall do so to the heart's content of the Standard. But we shall not gratify it now.

Our second point was, that Dr. Deems was not a secessionist, nor the Watchman a secession paper. The Standard now admits that Dr. Deems was at first a Union man—then a strong war man. Why then attack him as a secessionist? What was the object of it? Admitting that its first charges were true, did it comport with professional courtesy, and with the professed friendship existing between Rev. Dr. Deems and Gov. Holden, thus to assail a new enterprise, involving great expense, and thus jeopard its success by calling it hard names? That is the point we made, and it was our reason for noticing it. If the doctrines taught in the Watchman were pernicious, and the Standard felt itself bound to correct them, was there not a better way to do it, than by crying out mad-dog?

The illiberal and unprovoked attacks upon Dr. Deems and ourself, which mark the article, are so characteristic of the Standard, they need no reply. Happily, Dr. Deems and the Watchman and the Sentinel, are quite as favorably known in North Carolina as the Standard.

Will the Freedmen Work?

The Wilmington (N. C.) Journal, furnished the following:

A friend of ours allowed the negroes belonging to a plantation ten miles below town, situated upon Town Creek, to remain on the plantation, provided they would cultivate it and allow him one-third, which they agreed to do. They were forty-two negroes all told. His third, upon a division of the products, consisted of 4½ bushels of corn, 275 pounds of fodder, 30 pounds 7 ounces of clean rice, 4 roasting ears, and a few tomatoes. Comment is unnecessary.

The above is a most important question. A gentleman several days ago, who had been in Warren and Halifax, expressed to us great doubt about the blacks in that section complying with their contracts. Many have left their employers already, and there are strong indications of restiveness and unwillingness to work.

Having been totally changed in their feelings and habits by their sudden emancipation, we fear years will elapse before they become steady laborers again, if ever. Every encouragement should be given them to labor. We begin to have serious doubts as to the feasibility of introducing foreign laborers raised in a colder climate. If the blacks will not labor, the only reliance of the country will be upon the white labor raised in the South.

We should be glad as a means of encouragement to the blacks to labor, that our readers in those sections where they are pursuing their labors well, will communicate the facts to us. Indeed we should be glad to spread reliable information on this subject, from all portions of the State.

Consolidating the Rail Roads.

A writer signed "Wilmington," in the Wilminton Journal, attacks sharply the proposition to consolidate the N. C. and the Atlantic and N. C. Railroads. It is quite fierce upon those who are laboring to effect it.

We have not had time to hear the debates upon this subject, nor to inquire into the reasons urged for the consolidation.

What is the object of the proposition? Does it go no further than a desire to promote one section over the other? What are the benefits to the State? We confess the proposition strikes us as rather queer. Does any one believe that the North Carolina Rail Road Company would consent to the scheme? Would that Company take upon its back the responsibilities of the Atlantic Road? We think not.—The Legislature we submit has no power to consolidate those Roads. Its action must be simply permissive. If, however, the stockholders of both Roads desire the consolidation, and it could be shown that the interests of the people of the whole State were to be promoted by it, the thing should be done, not otherwise. The bill however, has been tabled in the Senate, and there it will rest.

BOB VARRIS.—The public palate we judge is fully satiated with the gibberish of imitators of Artemus Ward and Bill Arp. Indeed the wit of the latter comes a little too often to suit.—On our first page, we bring out to-day a new candidate for public favor, who daguerreotypes Boston and Massachusetts to the life, though too much mixed up with profanity. We insert it simply for its good hit at Boston, &c.

The Negro Testimony Bill Rejected.

Just as we were going to press, we learn from the Senate that that body had rejected the bill proposed by the commission on the Freedmen's Code, concerning Negroes, Indians, and persons of color or mixed blood, by a vote of 22 to 18.

For the Sentinel.

To the People of the South.

The frequent battles around Winchester, Va., have left their traces in the many graves scattered broadcast over an area of twelves miles radius. The dead were generally buried where they fell, and their rude graves are fast disappearing beneath the feet of men and beasts, free from the want of enclosure, to where they will.

Those who died in the hospitals were mostly buried in the old Episcopal graveyard, but its enclosure has long been destroyed, and cattle graze over its whole extent.

The farming operations of next season, the wear of the winter, and the disappearance by removal and death of those who were present at their burials, will in a few months leave no knowledge of the resting-places of many martyred dead.

Impelled by these considerations, some of the citizens of Winchester and its vicinity have determined to endeavor to collect these scattered remains in one cemetery and surround them by a substantial enclosure. This, of course, will require a considerable amount of money. The means of our citizens are very much diminished by the war and its results; we are, therefore, induced to appeal to you for aid in this matter, encouraged by the belief that you feel it a privilege as well as a duty to pay this tribute of respect to the memory of those who fell in your cause.

Every Southern State has its representatives among those fallen heroes; we ask all then for such contributions as they feel able to give.

Should we succeed in raising the necessary funds, it is proposed to remove the remains on the first of April, 1866, and would respectfully suggest to all whose friends lie under these battle-fields, to disinter them before that time if they wish to do so. In the removal, every precaution will be taken to preserve all means of identification and an accessible record will be prepared of every grave.

All subscriptions may be sent to Mrs. Phillip Williams, or Mrs. Dr. A. H. H. Boyd, Winchester, Va., or to Mrs. Mary B. Clarke, Raleigh, N. C.

Editors of all papers in the State are requested to copy this circular.

The following letter from Mrs. Boyd to Mrs. Clarke, of this city, will show what is being done. The matter involves considerable expense, but one with which the entire Southern people must sympathize. We hope therefore that all who can spare any amount will forward it at once to Mrs. Clarke:

WINCHESTER, Va., Feb. 23, 1866.

MRS. MARY B. CLARKE—

Dear Madam:

Yours of the 18th has just been received, and I hasten to accept your kind offer, to assist us in our great undertaking. The plan you propose is a very good one, to solicit contributions of one dollar; we have adopted it in various places, deviating as to the amount to suit the condition of the people. One lady has just handed in $50 collected by 10 cent subscriptions. We have been obliged to adopt different methods to collect the necessary sum; one family, in rather reduced circumstances, have had an oyster supper in our town, which they continued from day to day, giving all the profits to the Soldiers' Cemetery; they have cleared $260. The citizens gave them aid by sending contributions of different kinds.

We have a committee of gentlemen, who are making the necessary arrangements. They propose to have the ground laid off so as to assign one lot to each State, and in the centre have one for the unknown. I am sorry to say that this must necessarily be the largest division. After the battles, most of the dead were buried in such a manner as to make identification impossible, and even from the hospitals they were buried without a sufficient mark at all times. It will be a comfort to those, whose friends cannot be identified, to know that their remains will be cared for. We design putting a substantial stone fence around it, and calling it the STONEWALL CEMETERY. I send you a circular, and hope, ere long, you will be able to send us something.

With many kind wishes for you and yours, I am, &c., ELLEN F. BOYD.

For the Sentinel.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—To remove the prevailing impression that I will soon publish a Sabbath School paper, (in compliance with the request of the Conference at its late session,) I wish to state through your columns that the serious illness of my father, and duties devolving upon me in consequence, render it impracticable for me to undertake any work that requires regular attention. These considerations induced the Bishop at Conference to leave me without an appointment to regular ministerial duties during the current year. Besides other reasons, I make this public announcement of my inability to publish the paper, because the general expectation that I am about to do so, might prevent some one better qualified and more favorably situated, from engaging in that interesting and useful task.

While writing, I will inform my friends, both lay and clerical, that while thus providentially debarred the privileges of the active ministry, I have ready for the press a little book, that I desire to send out to preach for me to the glory of God in the salvation of souls. It is called "The Safety Lamp, Or Light For The Narrow Way." Its design is to give a plain and faithful answer to the inquirers of the earnest soul on vital points in Christianity—such inquiries as arise at the different stages in moral experience. It is adapted peculiarly to penitents and young converts,—was suggested by a need seriously felt in my pastoral labors, and will be found, I sincerely believe, a more valuable auxiliary to ministers in revivals than any work that we have.

It has been examined by Dr. C. F. Deems, and recommended by him for publication by the Advocate Company; and would have been issued by them, but for the advance of the Federal armies. The articles on Repentance and Faith were also submitted to Rev. Dr. McFerrin and received his approval.

I propose to publish it by subscription just as soon as a sufficient number is subscribed and paid for to justify its publication.

Half the profits of the number subscribed for will be given to the superannuated preachers and the widows and orphans of ministers deceased.

The price is fifty cents per copy. Send on your subscribers' names and address—with the cash.

Small amounts may be sent by mail to Flat River, Orange county, N. C.

All amounts over ten dollars should be sent by Express to Durhams, N. C. Railroad.

Please give it prompt attention, as I wish to bring it out soon.

A. W. MANGUM.

THE NAIL STRUCK ON THE HEAD.—It is reported that Commodore Vanderbilt, being called on a few evenings since, gave the following sentiment:

GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

SENATE.

(EVENING SESSION.)

March. 2d, 1866.

The Senate was called to order at 7½ o'clock, P. M.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

The bill to change the jurisdiction of the Courts and the rules of pleading therein, was taken up; the question arising on the passage of the bill on its second reading as amended, Mr. Wiggins called the yeas and nays, and the bill passed by a vote of 30 yeas; 6 nays.

The bill to consolidate the North Carolina and the Atlantic and North Carolina Rail Road Companies came up, and on motion of Mr. Howard it was referred to the Committee on Internal Improvement.

The bill to extend the operation of an Ordinance to appoint a Judge to determine State claims. On motion of Mr. Bynum the rules were suspended and the bill passed its third reading.

The bill to enable Sheriffs and tax collectors to collect arrears of taxes for the year 1864, came up on its second reading, and was ratified by a vote of 27 to 10.

On motion, of Mr. McCleese, the vote by which the bill to consolidate the North Carolina and Atlantic and N. C. Rail Road Companies was referred to the Committee on Internal Improvements was reconsidered. The question arising on recommitting the bill to the same committee, a warm and interesting debate ensued. Messrs. Hall of New Hanover and Howard of Edgecombe urged strongly the reference to the committee on Internal Improvements.—Messrs. Carter of Beaufort and Arendell of Carteret strongly opposed the reference. Other gentlemen participated briefly urging objections pro and con; the vote being put, the motion was rejected.

Mr. Jones of Wake, moved that the bill be amended so as to effect the arrangement of running the freight trains without breakage through all the roads. The amendment was adopted.

The hour for adjournment having arrived, the Speaker adjourned the Senate till 10 o'clock to-morrow.

SENATE.

FRIDAY, Morning March 2.

The Senate was called to order at 10 o'clock A. M.

Prayer by the Rev. Dr. Smedes.

Mr. Carter from the committee on Claims, to whom was referred, a resolution in favor of R. W. Best, reported back the same recommending that it do pass.

Mr. Wiggins, from the committee on Finance, to whom was referred a resolution concerning the Commissioners and Secretary of the Sinking Fund, reported back the resolution and recommended that it do not pass.

Mr. Wilson introduced a resolution instructing the Judiciary Committee to inquire into the propriety of amending the law applicable to burglary, so as more effectually to secure the citizens of the State in their rights of property, which was adopted.

Mr. Morgan introduced a resolution in favor of Gen. W. E. Mann, referred to the Committee on Claims.

Mr. Jones, of Columbus, introduced a bill to facilitate pleading in Courts of law, referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

Mr. Latham introduced a bill for the relief of the late Sheriff of Washington county, referred to the Judiciary committee.

The resolution introduced by Mr. Pitchford to limit the time for any one Senator to speak on any question to fifteen minutes, which was laid over under the rules, was taken up and adopted.

On motion of Mr. Ferebee the bill to change the jurisdiction of the Courts and the rules of pleading therein, was made the special order for Monday next.

A message from the House transmitting the Revenue bill; on motion of Mr. Howard it was made the special order for Tuesday next at 11 o'clock.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

The bill to consolidate the North Carolina Rail Road Company and the Atlantic and North Carolina Rail Road Company, being under consideration, the question being on the adoption of an amendment offered by Mr. Hall, on motion of Mr. Donaho, the whole matter was laid on the table.

Mr. Whitford of Craven, arose and asked the privilege of a personal explanation in reference to his vote on the bill just disposed of. He desired to vote for a bill leaving it to the individual stockholders to say whether the Roads should be consolidated or not, hence he voted first against laying on the table, hoping to secure such an amendment, but finding that the present bill could be tabled, he changed his vote, and voted for the motion of the Senator from Caswell.

SPECIAL ORDER.

The bill concerning negroes, Indians and persons of color or of mixed blood, was taken up and considered by sections. On the question of the amendment, offered by Mr. Carter, to the 9th section, to strike out that part of it which specified the time for said bill to go into effect, considerable debate ensued.

Mr. Carter considered the amendment to the 9th section of the original bill, as a virtual destruction of it. He thought the bill necessary to the removal of the Freedmen's Bureau. He contended that its passage was demanded in respect to President Johnson's policy, and as necessary.

Mr. Howard hoped that the House amendment would not be stricken out. The amendment was necessary, for the reason that so long as the Bureau remained, no action under this section could be had in the civil courts, which the agents of the Bureau would not be disposed to revoke. He was ready to meet the President's wishes in this matter—was ready to give him his support, but he did not see how any thing can be gained by giving the negro the right to testify so long as the Bureau is in force.

Mr. Wiggins should oppose the amendment to strike out the House amendment. He was against the principle of the bill, but should vote against the amendment.

Mr Ferebee concurred in the views of the Senator from Halifax. He desired to do his duty in the premises. He would go as far as the farthest in support of the President's policy, but he had no evidence that the sacrifice was required. If the Bureau were removed and all our constitutional rights secured, he should feel free to act, and would go to the utmost in doing justice to the negro, but the circumstances which surrounded the question, rendered it difficult to act wisely and independently. He believed the whole section should be stricken out, and moved to amend the amendment by striking out the entire section.

Mr. Carter resisted the amendment in a warm and earnest speech. The debate was continued, Messrs. Hall, Covington, McLean, Mr. Ferebee, Mr. Howard, Mr. Bynum, taking part, but our inability to do justice to any of them, in such a notice as our space allows, obliges us to desist.

At the close of the debate the vote was taken, and the question being put, shall the section as it came from the House, stand as a part of the bill, and it was decided in the affirmative, ayes 26, nays 18.

On motion the Senate adjourned till half-past seven o'clock, P. M.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

FRIDAY, March 3rd 1866.

The House was called to order at 10 o'clock, A. M.

Prayer by Rev. Dr. Smedes, of the Episcopal Church.

The Journal of yesterday was read and approved.

BILLS INTRODUCED.

By Mr. Harper, for the Finance committee, a bill to authorize the Public Treasurer to make special deposits.

By Mr. Hoke, a bill to raise a Sinking Fund.

By Mr. Hutchison, a bill to legalize the courts of Pleas and Quarter Sessions held by the Provisional Justices in the county of Mecklenburg.

By Mr. Blackmer, a bill to extend relief to Robert Christy and others.

By Mr. Blackmer, a resolution in favor of R. H. Bradley.

ON CALENDAR.

A bill for the benefit of the Public Schools, introduced by Mr. Jenkins, of Granville, was put on its third reading, and was amended by the substitution of a bill for the benefit of the Common Schools of the State, reported from the Committee on Education. (The substitute adopted, proposes to issue for the benefit of the schools $200,000 worth of certificates of indebtedness, yearly, for two years, redeemable in 6 per cent. bonds of the State, or in the National Currency.)

The question recurring on the passage of the bill as amended, Messrs. McAden, Dalby and Smith of Hertford, opposed the passage, and Messrs. Blackmer, Jenkins of Warren, Caldwell, McNair and Holderby addressed the House in its support.

Mr. Holderby said, he did not intend to bore the House with a speech; he merely wished to call the attention of members to this fact, that at the close of the war of 1812, with Great Britian, the State of North Carolina issued Treasury notes, in fractional parts of a dollar, amounting to the sum of $80.000 that $25.000 of these notes were vested in stock of the Bank of Cape Fear, which all knew, were as good as gold up to the commencement of the war through which we had just past—that the remainder of these notes were in circulation, and were equivalent to gold—that there was no Constitutional provision now which did not exist then, against the issue and circulation of State Treasury notes—he should therefore support the bill now before the House.

Mr. Burton said in support of the bill, he had acted as Chairman of the Board of Superintendents of Common Schools for his county, and could testify that much good had been done by them, that many children had been taught to read and write at least, in consequence of ther aid, that would not have been without them, and hoped the bill would pass unless a better one was offered.

Mr. Moore, of Martin, moved to amend the bill by striking out the provision authorizing the issue of certificates of indebtedness, and inserting instead a provision empowering the Literary Board to borrow money, for the support of the Common Schools, hypotheticating stocks belonging to the Literary Fund to secure its payment. This amendment was rejected.

Mr. Smith, of Hertford, offered a substitute—abolishing the office of Treasurer of the Literary Fund, appropriating $50,000 annually for school purposes, and empowering the several county courts to levy taxes in aid of the schools.

Mr. Dalby moved to amend the amendment by substituting a bill, now before the Senate, abolishing the office of Superintendent of Common Schools and suspending the schools.

The amendment to the amendment was rejected.

The amendment was also rejected, and the bill passed its second reading as follows:

YEAS.—Messrs. Allison, Ashworth, Baxter, Beasley, Black, Blackmer, Blythe, Burton, Caldwell, Cameron, Candler, Cox, Craige, Crawford, Davis of Carteret, Davis of Halifax, Dickey, Dunn, Faison, Farrell, Foster, Gaines, Garland, Gidney, Hamilton, Hodnett, Holderby, Houston, Jenkins of Granville, Jenkins of Warren, Jones, Joyner, Judkins, Kenan, Kinney, Lee of Gates, Logan, Marler, Matthews, McGuire, McIntosh, McNair, Mott, Nicks, Newsum, Page, Palmer, Potter, Shaw, Smith of Guilford, Stilley, Teague, Thigpen, Waugh, Williams, Wilson, York—57.

NAYS.—Messrs. Arrington, Barnett, Blair, Bonner, Bryson, Cambell, Carson, Chadwick, Cowan, Dalby, Dargan, Everett, Faircloth of Wayne, Farrow, Flythe, Furr, Harrington, Harper, Hawes, Hoke, Holmes, Hutchison, Jenkins of Gaston, Leigh of Tyrell, Lucas, Luke, Lyon McAden, McDonald, McEachern, Melson, Moore of Alamance, Moore of Chatham, Moore of Martin, Murril, Niven, Rosebro, Simmons, Smith of Columbus, Smith of Hertford, Scoggin, Thompson, Trull, Webb, Wheeler, Whitley, Yellowley—47.

The following bills and resolutions passed third reading, viz: a bill to authorize the sale of a lot to the city of Raleigh for a burial ground; a bill to legalize the Courts of Pleas and Quarter Sessions held by the Provisional Justices in the County of Mecklenburg; resolutions in reference to sketches of lower North Carolina; resolution to repair the State House; a bill to authorize the sale of the Roanke Valley Railroad; a bill to reduce the bonds of Sheriffs and other officers; a bill to require a deposit of securities to be made by foreign insurance companies doing business in the State, and a bill to incorporate the Rock Island Manufacturing Company.

Mr. Moore of Martin, by leave, introduced a bill to amend the charter of the Williamston and Tarboro Railroad Company.

Mr. McNair, a resolution in favor of Theo. N. Ramsay.

Mr. Niven, a resolution in favor of Daniel W. Chambers. Passed its several readings under a suspension of the rules.

Sundry unimportant bills were laid on the table under adverse reports from the committees to which they had been respectfully referred, and the House adjourned until ten o'clock, A. M., to-morrow.

THE CABINET TO BE REORGANIZED.—Secretary Seward arrived here this morning and had a long private interview with the President this afternoon. He was telegraphed for, in order that the President might consult him in regard to the formation of the new Cabinet. The announcement of the new Cabinet may be looked for daily; and if the present Cabinet meets to-morrow it will probably be for the last time.—Secretary Harlan has already resigned, and it is reported that Mr. Speed's resignation is in the President's hands. Mr. Stanton has not resigned, and his friends say he will not; but that will not delay the appointment of his successor. Special to New York News.

The work on the Weldon bridge, over the Roanoke river, is rapidly progressing. It will be 1,750 feet in length, of eleven spans.

A negro has sued a city railroad company in St. Louis for twenty thousand dollars damages, because the conductor put him off, in accordance with the rules.

MARRIED:

In the county of Rockingham, on Tuesday 20th Feb. last, by the Rev Mr. Thomas, of the M. E. Church, Mr. Bedford A. Crafton and Miss Mollie Simpson, both of said county.

A CARD.

THE Philanthropic Society of the University of North Carolina is anxious to have a record of the names, and, as far as is possible, of the histories also, of its members who were slain in the recent war. They may be counted by hundreds, and their blood has stained the field of every battle from Manassas to Bentonsville. Of these brave and noble men, who freely offered their young lives for the cause of their country, there should be some enduring memorial. We owe it to them, and we owe it no less to ourselves, and to those who shall come after us. Their eminent patriotism should not be forgotten, nor should the worthiness of their example be lost to their successors.

The Society has thought that its archives are a most fit place of depo-it for such memorials, where they are sure to meet with reverent care and are most likely to be long preserved and to be of the highest service to our young men hereafter.

It has, therefore, directed this appeal to be made to the kindred and friends of those, its members, who perished in the late war, and to all who may be able to render such service, that they would send to the Society such memorandums as may be had of their lives and of their death. It desires to form a complete catalogue of those whom it has lost, with biographical sketches, at full as may be, of them all; or, in default of such sketches, accounts of separate acts of virtue and daring.

Besides such memoranda, it will gladly receive any personal memorials of its deceased members, their autographs, accoutrements they wore, &c., &c. All will be duly arranged here, and carefully preserved in honor of the dead and to the use of the living for many generations; and it is believed that no where else will the memory of our departed brethren be cherished longer, or with more peculiar veneration. And now, that the late war is over; now that the last four years of bloodshed, destitution and distress have passed; now that we have resumed our former connection with the Federal government in true faith and with honest intentions, the incidents and acts connected with the war's history, are fast being effaced from the hearts and memory of the people for whom they were performed. The Society, believing that in a country where every law breathes independence and equality, acts of worth should be perpetuated, views this fact with the deepest concern: it has, therefore, appointed its Library to be a receptacle for trophies commemorative of the war, and requests contributions from her friends throughout the State. It should be a source of congratulation to the authors that their illustrious actions are not forgotten, and of price to the country, that she is worthy of them; and equally the duty of both that they be fitly honored.

All communications made, and articles sent, should be directed to "Philanthropic Society, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill," with the name of the donor, and an appropriate description accompanying each article. All expenses connected with the sending of such articles will be defrayed by the Society.

CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

Fair to Night.

We are requested to state that there will be a fair at the Chapel of the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, and the Blind to-night. We learn that the ladies have prepared some very nice refreshments, and besides there will be a number of fancy articles for sale. The proceeds of the fair will be applied to paying the balance for a piano for the blind pupils, and we hope the fair will be liberally patronized.

Mrs. Ball's Case.

The case of Mrs. Ball has not yet been decided or made public. She is still here in custody.

SALISBURY BANNER.—We are glad to receive this exchange again, though on a half sheet.—We regret much the loss sustained by the citizens, and by the Banner and Watchman, but we judge from the specimen before us enough type was saved to keep the Banner going. Dr. Kennedy retires from the editoral conduct of the Banner.

The Salisbury Gazette has been suspended, but will be followed in a few days by the "Old North State" to be edited by Lewis Hanes, Esq. See prospectus in another column. The "Old North State," will be all right.

The diocese of South Carolina has united with the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States. Bishop Davis yielded his assent to the transfer, though at first he was in favor of maintaining intact the Southern organization. We should rejoice if a re-union upon the same terms could take place between all the Northern and Southern Churches.

The following is the vote by which was rejected on Thursday last, the amendment offered to the Revenue Bill, in the House of Commons, imposing a tax of $1 on dogs over eight months old, exempting one for each head of a family.

Those who voted in affirmative were

Messrs. Baxter, Beaseley, Burgess, Caldwell, Cameron, Cox, Dickey, Faircloth, of Wayne, Gaines, Harper, Holderby, Hoke, Holmes, Houston, Hutchison, Hyman, Jenkins, of Warren, Jones, Judkins, Kenan, Kinney, Lee, of Gates, Logan, Lucas, Manly, McEachen, Mott, Page, Rosebro, Teague, Thigpen, Webb, Wheeler and Wilson—33.

Those who voted in the affirmative were

Messrs. Allison, Arrington, Ashworth, Barnett, Blythe, Bonner, Bryson, Burton, Carson, Chadwick, Coates, Craige, Crawford, Dalby, Davis, of Carteret, Everett, Flythe, Furr, Garland, Gidney, Hamilton, Harrington, Harrison, Hawes, Hilliard, Hodnett, Horton, Jenkins, of Gaston, Joyner, Leigh, of Tyrrell, Luke, Marler, McDonald, McIntosh, McNair, Melson, Murrill, Niven, Nicks, Newsum, Palmer, Paschall, Russell, Shaw, Simmons, Smith, of Columbus, Stilley, Scoggin, Trull, Waugh, Whitley, Williams, Yellowley and York—54.

Congress Softening---Radical Power---Talking Clerks---Stanton to Retrieve Himself.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.

It is now a common remark among Republicans that Congress is softening. A very eminent radical in the executive quarter said to me today that the ship of state was again on the right track.

This means, probably, that the more conservtive members are to break away from the Stevens-Forney rule, and sustain, partially, at least, the President's policy. Something of a breach will probably exhibit itself to-morrow. The radical majority is in a hazardous condition in the Senate, and there was still some disposition shown to fight it out their line, by the fierce attempt to break the force of Mr. Dixon's strong argument to-day.

There is a rumor that the Secretary of the Treasury has brought a bureau officer to account for abuse of the President. A large number of the subordinates in departments still think they are a great power.

An intimate personal friend of Mr. Stanton said, to-day, that the latter desires to retrieve himself before the nation. Too late.

ALPHA.

To Sheriffs.

An act to provide for the collection of the taxes of 1865, in counties where no Sheriff or other officer was qualified under the Revenue Ordinance of the Convention.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That in those counties where, from any cause, no collecting officer was qualified under section twenty-three of the Ordinance of the Convention, entitled, "An Ordinance to provide revenue for the year 1865," the present Sheriffs of said counties shall be charged with the collection of the taxes by said Ordinance imposed, and shall have the powers and duties in said Ordinance granted and imposed on the Provisional Sheriffs, who were qualified thereunder.

Be it further enacted, That returns of said collections shall be made under the rules and regulations prescribed in said ordinance to the Public Treasurer, at such time as may be prescribed for the next regular return of taxes.

And, Be it further enacted, That this act shall be in force from and after its ratification.

Ratified March 1st, 1866.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of the original on file in this office.

Secretary of State.

THE USURY LAW.—The Norfolk Old Dominion, alluding to the defeat of the bill modifying the law against usury, says:

"It is regarded as having added greatly to our financial difficulties, and as being one of the greatest disasters that could have befallen us. This paper, which expresses the wishes and hopes of the business men of Norfolk and Portsmouth, makes a last appeal to the Legislature to reconsider their action in this regard, and not to shut the door against the capital which will flow in upon us if the proper encouragement is given."

A delegation waited on the President on Saturday, and requested him to give one member of his cabinet to the Pacific States.

Most of the conservative members of the Tennessee Legislature have resigned in consequence of the outrageous conduct of the Radical majority.

From Washington.

(CORRESPONDENCE OF RICHMOND EXAMINER.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.

The President's remarks in a conversation with Gov. Cox of Ohio, are among the most important of all his utterances on the subject of his policy. I am not sure that they were not given out at this time with a view to afford a last chance for conciliation to the malignant and impracticable faction that opposes his liberal and wise policy. Gov. Cox, it seems, read the remarks to the Ohio delegation and has endorsed them himself, as Senator Sherman has done. But Senator Wade and Gen. Schenck will be slow to come into this or any other arrangement.

The President has given so full and candid an exposition of his attitude towards the seceded States, in this conversation, that no doubt rests upon it. He relies upon those States to take such a course as will enable him to issue his proclamation of the legal or technical close of the war. Congress might do this. Mr. Seward says that either the President, or Congress, or both, could make this declaration. Made by either, it will terminate the state of war, and with it the whole paraphernalia of war—martial law, Freedmen's Bureaus; Federal garrisons, black and white; cotton agencies; and even the new dodge of Federal officials, and the negro emigration trade. The admission of Southern representatives into Congress, and the appointment of Southern loyal men to offices of high trust at home and abroad would follow. Commerce and production, North and South, would spring up, as if by the hand of magic.

But Congress will neither adopt this course, with or without the co-operation of the President.

It is competent for the President alone, as has been stated by Mr. Seward, and as has been in fact, settled in two leading cases by the Supreme Court, to decide when the insurrection is at an end. The President will, in due time—perhaps in a month—issue his proclamation, as indicated by Mr. Seward, and frequently declared by the President himself in political conversations. After that, will Congress change their course? Not a whit. They will become ten times more rancourous than ever. It will be considered and resented as a fresh affront.—But after that event, every act of opposition, on the part of Congress, to restoration, will be factious and revolutionary.

The business interests of the country, always sensitive to political changes, begins to suffer from the present condition of things.

Public credit, when our debt was merely nominal in the Tyler administration, was so much prejudiced by the conflict between President Tyler and Congress, that the Government could not borrow a few millions of dollars.—The impending conflict will shake public credit, and perhaps overthrow it entirely.

Secretary Harlan, of the Interior, is about to retire. No other head of department will voluntarily go out, though the President would, they say, be willing to part with Mr. Stanton.

KAPPA.

THE PEACE PROCLAMATION

is delayed by the supposed unsettled condition of affairs in Texas. She alone, of all the States, occupies an anomalous position—in other words, has not been "reconstructed"—and the President will therefore have to speak of her as at peace, without a civil government, should he issue his proclamation, as is rumored, during the present week.

INTERESTING TO OFFICE-HOLDERS.

The Judiciary Committee, it is understood have agreed to report back to the House, favorably, Mr. Stevens' bill relative to the tenure of Presidential appointees. The bill provides that no removals from office can be made by the President except by and with the consent of the Senate. The bill, if it passes, will be vetoed, of course.

THE FREEDMEN'S BILL.

The Special Committee of the House on the Freedmen's Bureau bill have passed a resolution extending the provisions of the Bureau, as at present existing, for an "indefinite period." It is now believed that there will be no attempt to pass a new bill while the Southern States are unrepresented, as the President has declared he could not consistently sign such a measure, on the ground of its illegality. Congress will therefore have to content itself with the extension of the present bill.

EXPORTS AND IMPORTS.

Statistics at the Treasury Department show that there is no foundation for the commonly received opinion that there is a balance of exports over imports in our foreign trade. The official values of the exports are currency values, while the valuations of the imports are made in gold figures. For the three years, 1863, 1864 and 1865, the imports amount to $876,000,000 in gold, while the exports, valued in currency at $72,000,000, when reduced to a gold standard amount to only $662,000,000, leaving, instead of $156,000,000 in our favor, a deficit of $154,000,000. This is the true condition of our foreign trade, and probably explains the cause of the great flow of our securities to Europe.

A Word to the Southern Press.

We claim to be an earnest, friend to the South, sincerely desiring the welfare of all her people whose material interests have been prostrated, by the ravages of a terrible war. We desire the speediest restoration of all the relations of the lately rebellious States to the Union upon terms of equality with all our other sister States; and, prompted by this desire, we have been lately filled with regret by certain passionate and intemperate expressions in a number of our Southern exchanges when discussing the political aspect of the country. It is all important to the peace and harmony of the Union that the framers of public sentiment in the South should be in all respects temperate and judicious in treating the issues now before the American people. They should avoid all expressions that tend to keep alive the sectional jealousies and hatreds which gave birth to the recent war.—The conservative men of the loyal States are now engaged in a vital conflict with the radical elements arrayed against President Johnson's wise and magnanimous policy of restoration, and the success of that policy greatly depends upon the feelings and conduct of the Southern people themselves, as reflected by the Southern press. Every expression of Union sentiment in the South strengthens the President and the friends of his policy in the loyal States; while, on the other hand, every declaration of bitter or sectional feeling in the rebellious States fearfully weakens them. Let the Southern press, therefore, be exclusively devoted to the cultivation of an earnest national sentiment. The days of radical supremacy in Congress and out of it will be shortly numbered, and all the original relations of the Union will be fully restored. The American people are the masters of the politicians, and they are resolved, under the guidance of Andrew Johnson, to maintain the dignity and integrity of the Constitution.—Louisville Journal.

M. R. Disoway, of Va., writes: "A dyspeptic acquaintance used the SOUTHERN HEPATIC PILLS, and found them so useful that since his removal to Missouri he has sent in an order for a gross of them. These inventions stand approved as the "best" by the most eminent Scientific and Surgical Societies of the world, the inventor having been honored with the award of FIFTY GOLD AND SILVER MEDALS (or "First Prix s") including the Great Medals of the World's Exhibition in London and New York; also the most Honorary Report of the great Society of Surgeons of Paris, giving his Pate ts place above the ENGLISH AND FRENCH.

Dr. Palmer gives personal attention to the business of his profession, aided by men of the best qualifications and greatest experience. He is specially commissioned by the Government and has the patronage of the prominent Officers of the Army and Navy. Six Major-Generals and more than a thousand less distinguished officers and soldiers have worn the PALMER LIMBS on active duty, while still greater numbers of eminent civilians are, by their aid, filling important positions, and effectually conceal their misfortune.

DAILY SENTINEL

WM. B. PELL, Proprietor.

Popping the "Question."

Popping the question is one of the fine arts undoubtedly, and few attain great skill in it. Indeed, a happy hit is better than a studied effort. Jones has put his experience into verse, and sings it when he feels bad

I pressed my beating heart,
I smoothed my ruffled hair,
I stepped into the room,
I found Lorinda there.

I seized her lily hand,
I squeezed it o'er and o'er,
I beat my well-turned [illegible]
I knelt upon the floor.

I told my tale of woe,
I whispered all my fears;
Then, what d'ye think she did?
Why, coolly boxed my ears!

A piquant poet of the softer sex insists that ladies ought to have the privilege of popping the question:

O! what a shocking thing, indeed,
O! what a stupid fashion,
That when a woman falls in love,
She may not breathe her passion!
As though she could not make as well
The needful declaration,
That she intends to make with "Miss"
A final separation.

And could not just as well present
The thrilling sweet proposal,
That she would like to give herself
To Hymen's blest disposal,
Or, to be more explicit e'en,
And save my readers trouble,
That she intends to change herself—
Her single self to double.

To think a woman could not say,
"I love you more, my Harry,
Than all the world—except myself—
Dear, would you like to marry?
Jim wants me, but I don't want him,
Consider what you utter,
Because my heart, you see—you see—
Is in a dreadful flutter!"

I've read your letter, and I know
The wiles that you have wrought
To win that noble heart of his,
And gain it; fearful thought!
What lavish wealth men sometimes give
For a trifle, light and small;
What manly forms are often held
In folly's flimsy thrall.

You shall not pity him, for now
He's past your hope and fear;
Although I wish that you could stand
With me beside his bier,
Still, I forgive you; Heaven knows,
For mercy you'll have need,
Since God His awful judgment sends
On each unworthy deed.

To night, the cold wind whistles by,
As I my vigils keep
Within the prison dead house, where
Few mourners come to weep.
A rude, plank coffin holds him now,
Yet death gives always grace;
And I had rather see him thus
Than clasped in your embrace.

To night your rooms are very gay,
With wit, and wine, and song;
And you are smiling just as if
You never did a wrong.
Your hand, so fair, that none would think
It penned these words of pain;
Your skin, so white—would to God your soul
Were half so free of stain!

I'd rather be this dear, dear friend,
Than you in all your glee;
For you are held in grievous bonds,
While he's forever free.
Whom serve we in this life, we serve
In that which is to come;
He chose his way, you yours; let God
Pronounce the fitting doom!

CAMP CHASE, December, 1861.

WHERE THE LIGHT CAME FROM.—Some years ago, in New Castle county, Delaware, an Irishman was knocked down and robbed. He accused a man of having committed the robbery, and in due time the case came to trial. The Irishman being put upon the stand, was cross-examined, after having sworn positively to the guilt of the prisoner, by one of the keenest lawyers, and something like the following was the result:

"You say the prisoner at the bar is the man who assaulted and robbed you?"

"Yes."

"Was it moonlight when the occurrence took place?"

"Divil a bit iv it."

"Was it starlight?"

"Not a whit; it was so dark that you could not see your hand before you."

"Was there any light shining from any house near by?"

"Divil a bit iv a house was there anywhere about."

"Well, if there was no moon, stars, nor light from any house, and so dark that you could not see your hand before you, how are you able to swear that the prisoner was the man? How could you see him?"

"Why, yer honor, when the spalpen struck me, the fire flew out of my eyes so bright you might have seen to pick up a pin, you might."

The court, jury, counsel and spectators exploded with shouts at this quaint idea, but the prisoner was directly after declared not guilty.

ARMY JOKE.—The following good one is told at the expense of General J. B. Magruder:

While retreating from the Peninsular in 1862, the General and his staff stopped at the house of a widow lady on the road and engaged dinner. In a few moments Jim Phelps a Louisiana soldier, accosted the lady, with:

"Madame, can I get dinner?"

"Yes, sir," was the answer, "but as I am preparing dinner for General Magruder and staff, and have not room at my table for any more, you will have to wait for a second table."

"Verr well, madame, thank you," said Phelps, taking a seat in a position to command a view of the dining room.

Watching the movements of the servants, Phelps waited until the feast was on the table, and while the hostess proceeded to the parlor to announce dinner to the General and his staff, Phelps entered the dinning-room, and seating himself at the table, waited further developments.

Upon the entrance of the party of officers there was found to be seats for all but one, and one politely returned to the parlor to wait.

The General took a seat next to Phelps and, after the first course was finished, turning to Phelps, he inquired:

"Sir, have you any idea with whom you are dining?"

"No, sir," coolly replied Phelps, "I used to be particular, but since I turned soldier I don't care a'd—n who I eat with, so the victuals are clean."

A bachelor uncle, to whom his niece applied for advice on the question of choosing between two suitors, one of whom was rich and the other poor—the latter, of course, being the most ardent, as well as the favorite lover—sententiously replied: "My dear, the question being stripped of all illusory elements, your choice simply lies between love and beef. Now is love an idea, while beef is a reality. Love you can get along without, but beef you must have. Therefore, make sure of your beef."

RALEIGH, 1866.

LIFE INSURANCE NOTICE.

THE old and well established

Ætna Company, of Hartford,

Offers superior inducements to all who wish to provide for family or friends.

All losses are promptly paid. No case of litigation has ever occurred with this Company. With Assets of $3,300,000, it offers to receive one half of the premium in a note and half in cash, and, after the second year, to credit each customer with the dividends of the Company, which are now 50 per cent. With a small outlay, $500, or $10,000, or $20,000, may be secured to the family after their earthly providers are taken away. What father or husband would not feel thankful on his dying couch, that he had availed himself of every proper means to place those nearest and dearest to him, above the pinchings of want, and a life of dependence upon friends or charity? 8819 policies have been issued from the office ending Jan. 15 1866. The total income for the year 1865 was $1,681,399 57; total disbursements $527 855 24, leaving a balance to surplus fund of $1,155,244 33.

In Raleigh a large number have liberally responded and promptly acted in this matter; yet many delay, and may wait until it is too late. A man in this city lately left his place of business for his evening meal, well and healthy, but never reached that home except as he was carried there to die. Had that man taken the advice of the Agent, he might have left $5000 to minister to the necessities of a sorrowing family. Delays are dangerous, procrastination destructive. But one says, "If I only had confidence in the Company that it would pay, I would insure." Well, it never has failed to pay, and to-day is more responsible than ever before. It is patronized by some of the most sagacious minds in the land—men competent to detect and expose any deception if it existed.

BAUGH'S RAW BONE

Super-Phosphate of Lime.

BAUGH & SON'S,

MANUFACTURERS AND PROPRIETORS,

Store No. 20 South Delaware Avenue,

THIS valuable Manure has been before the agricultural public, under one name for twelve years past, and its character for vigor of action and permanence in effect is well established. Before the war, it was introduced, to some extent, in the Southern States, and was found to be highly adapted to Cotton, Tobacco, and all Crops.

In its action, it is as quick as Peruvian Guano, while it does not leave the land in an exhausted state, but on the other hand permanently improves it. This has been fully proven by years of trial.

COPARTNERSHIP.

NEWBERN, N. C., November 1st, 1865.

WE HAVE THIS DAY FORMED A COPARTnership under the name and style of

Whitford, Dill & Co.,

for the transaction of a Shipping and General

Commission Business, in this Town, West side Craven Street, on old County Wharf.

To the sale of Cotton, Naval Stores, Tobacco, Lumber, Staves, Shingles, Corn, and all kinds of Produce and Merchandise, and also to the sale and purchase of Real Estate and State and other Stocks, we will give our personal attention.

We are Agents for Murry's North Carolina Semi Weekly Line of Steamships, between Newbern and New York, and for Sailing Vessels for Baltimore, Philadelphia, and other ports, in the United States, and for different ports in the West Indies. Thus it will be seen that we are furnished by our own vessels with the amplest facilities for the speedy transportation of Freight and Passengers. But in addition to these, there is a weekly line of Ocean Steamships on the same route, and a tri-weekly line of Steamers by inland route through Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal to Norfolk, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York; hence Merchants and Shippers entrusting the transportation of their freight to us, can rely with confidence on its speedy transit.

☞ We will make liberal advances on consignments.

All letters addressed to us on the subject of freight, or on any other business, will be promptly answered.

PROSPECTUS

OF THE

OLD NORTH STATE.

"The Old North State Forever."

THE undersigned will commence the publication of a Daily and Weekly Newspaper, bearing the above title, in the city of Salisbury about the 10th of March next.

The Old North State will be, under our control, a firm and decided Union paper. But while it will be firm and decided in its support of the Union, and of all just and necessary measures tending to its complete restoration, it will yet be liberal and conservative. It will oppose radicalism from whatever quarter it may come. Confiding in the loyal intentions of the great body of the people of North Carolina, it will endeavor to soothe the asperities of the past by promoting among them a spirit of reconciliation and harmony.

Rejecting the exploded dogma of paramount State sovereignty, it will cheerfully support the National government in the exercise of every power necessary to the maintenance of its rightful authority, while it will ever contend against any encroachments upon the reserved rights of the States.

It will discuss all the various political issues of the day, but in doing this it will seek to avoid everything like partizan bitterness or personal vituperation. It will also strive to avoid that detestable practice, so common among politicians, of pandering to the passions and appealing to the prejudices of the multitude in order to accomplish partizan ends. It will endeavor to enlighten and direct aright public sentiment, by disseminating correct information, and by arguments addressed to the understanding—in short, it will endeavor to erect a high standard of political morality.

Its columns will be open for Political, Moral, Literary and Agricultural articles especially, and to the advertising public.

The Old North State will be printed on new type on the following

TERMS:

For the Daily 12 months,	$8 00
For the Daily 6 months,	4 50
For the Weekly 12 months,	3 00
For the Weekly 6 months,	1 50

CASH IN ADVANCE.

Any person sending us a club of ten subscribers at any one post office accompanied by the cash will be entitled to an extra copy for getting up the club.

We most respectfully solicit our friends to subscribe for the Old North State at once, also to aid us in extending its circulation as wide as possible.

THE LOYALIST.

THE undersigned propose to publish in Louisburg, North Carolina, a newspaper under the above denomination. The LOYALIST, as its name imports, will yield a firm, uniform, and fearless support to the Constitution of the United States, and all laws enacted in pursuance of that great instrument. To the decisions of the Supreme Court of the nation, in such questions as originate in the interpretation or application of the principles involved in our federal jurisprudence of policy, the Loyalist will accord its unqualified acquiescence, as to the will of the American people, duly expressed through the only legitimate, determinate and sufficient medium. Its general politics will be those so long and so thoroughly taught by the patriotism, the eloquence, and the wisdom of Clay, and his departed compeers, and so fearfully vindicated by the present melancholy and helpless condition of the communities so recently arrayed in arms against the integrity and harmony of our national union.

The Loyalist would make the institutions and independence, the material and moral dignity of the nation, as enduring and as brilliant as the stars whose images adorn the field and the folds of its flag. The Loyalist will also dedicate its energies and exert its abilities to ascertain and cherish the interests, as well as to develope the immense resources of North Carolina. To the cause of education, the general diffusion of knowledge, the elevation of the masses, and the religious culture of all within its influence, it will be a consistent and indefatigable friend. Its editorial department will be conducted by gentlemen whose names will be announced in due time.

The LOYALIST will be issued weekly, carefully printed of the size of the Raleigh "Daily Sentinel," and furnished to patrons at $3.00 per annum, payable on delivery of the first number. Subscriptions and communications respectfully solicited.
